

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

GUILLERMO NUNO,

Plaintiff,

v.

D. ESLICK, et al.

Defendants.

No. 1:21-cv-00769-KES-SAB (PC)

FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS
REGARDING DEFENDANTS' MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

(ECF No. 82)

Plaintiff is proceeding pro se and in forma pauperis in this action filed pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

Currently before the Court is Defendants' motion for summary judgment, filed March 8, 2024.

I.

BACKGROUND

This action is proceeding on Plaintiff's deliberate indifference claims against Defendants Eslick and Flores and retaliation claims against Defendants Eslick, Satterfield and Flores. (ECF No. 21.)

Defendants filed an answer to the original complaint on January 18, 2022. (ECF No. 30.)

On January 26, 2022, the Court set the case for settlement conference on April 12, 2022. (ECF No. 31.) However, on March 22, 2022, Defendants filed a notice to opt-out of the settlement conference which was granted this same day. (ECF Nos. 36, 37.) On this same day, the Court

1 issued the discovery and scheduling order. (ECF No. 38.)

2 On May 5, 2023, the Court granted Plaintiff's motion to amend the complaint and his first 3 amended complaint was filed this same date. (ECF Nos. 54, 55.)

4 On May 15, 2023, Defendant Satterfield filed an answer to the first amended complaint, 5 and Defendants Eslick and Flores filed the instant motion to dismiss. (ECF Nos. 56, 57.) An 6 amended motion to dismiss was filed on May 16, 2023. (ECF No. 60.)

7 On July 5, 2023, Plaintiff filed an opposition and motion to amend the complaint, along 8 with a proposed second amended complaint which was lodged. (ECF Nos. 67, 68.) Defendants 9 filed a reply on July 19, 2023. (ECF No. 69.)

10 On July 25, 2023, Findings and Recommendations were issued recommending denial of 11 Defendants' motion to dismiss and denial of motion to amend as unnecessary. (ECF No. 70.)
12 The Findings and Recommendations were adopted in full on August 20, 2023. (ECF No. 71.)

13 On September 12, 2023, Defendants Eslick and Flores filed an answer to the operative 14 complaint. (ECF No. 72.)

15 On September 13, 2023, the Court issued an amended scheduling order, which was 16 modified in part on December 12, 2023. (ECF Nos. 73, 75, 77.)

17 On March 8, 2024, Defendants filed the instant motion for summary judgment. (ECF No.
18 82.) Plaintiff filed an opposition on August 2, 2024. (ECF No. 106.) Plaintiff filed supplements 19 to the opposition on August 9, 2024 and August 22, 2024. (ECF Nos. 107, 108.) Defendants 20 filed a reply on September 20, 2024. (ECF No. 109.)

21 On October 4, 2024, Plaintiff filed a motion for leave to file a sur-reply, which was 22 granted on November 8, 2024. (ECF Nos. 110, 111.)

24 LEGAL STANDARD

25 A. Summary Judgment Standard

26 Any party may move for summary judgment, and the Court shall grant summary judgment 27 if the movant shows that there is no genuine dispute as to any material fact and the movant is 28 entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a) (quotation marks omitted);

1       Washington Mut. Inc. v. U.S., 636 F.3d 1207, 1216 (9th Cir. 2011). Each party's position, 2 whether it be that a fact is disputed or undisputed, must be supported by (1) citing to particular 3 parts of materials in the record, including but not limited to depositions, documents, declarations, 4 or discovery; or (2) showing that the materials cited do not establish the presence or absence of a 5 genuine dispute or that the opposing party cannot produce admissible evidence to support the fact.
6 Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)(1) (quotation marks omitted). The Court may consider other materials in the 7 record not cited to by the parties, but it is not required to do so. Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c)(3); Carmen 8 v. San Francisco Unified Sch. Dist., 237 F.3d 1026, 1031 (9th Cir. 2001); accord Simmons v.
9 Navajo Cnty., Ariz.

In judging the evidence at the summary judgment stage, the Court does not make credibility determinations or weigh conflicting evidence, Soremekun v. Thrifty Payless, Inc., 509 F.3d 978, 984 (9th Cir. 2007) (quotation marks and citation omitted), and it must draw all inferences in the light most favorable to the nonmoving party and determine whether a genuine issue of material fact precludes entry of judgment, Comite de Jornaleros de Redondo Beach v. City of Redondo Beach, 657 F.3d 936, 942 (9th Cir. 2011) (quotation marks and citation omitted).

17        In arriving at these Findings and Recommendations, the Court carefully reviewed and 18 considered all arguments, points and authorities, declarations, exhibits, statements of undisputed 19 facts and responses thereto, if any, objections, and other papers filed by the parties. Omission of 20 reference to an argument, document, paper, or objection is not to be construed to the effect that 21 this Court did not consider the argument, document, paper, or objection. This Court thoroughly 22 reviewed and considered the evidence it deemed admissible, material, and appropriate.

III.

DISCUSSION

A. Summary of Plaintiff's Complaint

26 Beginning in August 2019, Eslick would exclaim to Plaintiff: “faggot,” “you got a small 27 penis,” “go suck,” “masturbatory,” aimed at Plaintiff to hear and also intended to incite violence.
28 Defendant Eslick know that such statements can incite violence against Plaintiff when overheard

1 by another inmate yet chose to make the verbal statements toward Plaintiff whenever the 2 opportune time would occur. Such harassment continued and exacerbated with statements 3 exclaimed to Plaintiff: “piece of shit,” “watch your back,” “I’ll get you off the yard,” “I’m going 4 to get you knocked out”! Eslick used the prison jargon terminology “piece of shit” to infer that 5 Plaintiff is a child molester, intending for other inmates to overhear the remarks with the 6 implication Plaintiff is a child molester—thereby becoming a target by inmates that will attack 7 Plaintiff hearing about the offense from correctional officers. Inmates would believe such 8 exclamations spoken.

9       Defendant D. Eslick purposefully and deliberately influenced many of the Sierra 10 Conservation Center staff to commit various deeds of misconduct against Plaintiff. Plaintiff will 11 prove such has repeatedly occurred with over 200 pages of documentations of the evidence, as 12 well as fellow inmate witnesses.

13       Plaintiff has during all times of being subjected to these many instances of harassment 14 abuse made verbal and written grievances to Defendant Eslick’s superiors, as well as the many 15 additional medical personnel involved that have taken reprisals against Plaintiff. The immediate 16 results of Plaintiff’s reports were met only with additional reprisals taken, with no result expected 17 by Plaintiff pursuant to due process of law.

18       It is further alleged that Plaintiff has become at risk of harm as a direct result of the 19 Defendant’s unlawful harassment and unlawful influence of other staff persons at Sierra 20 Conservation Center.

21       Defendant Satterfield became aware that Plaintiff initiated the process necessary to 22 exhaust the administrative remedies involving Defendants Eslick and Flores. Plaintiff had to 23 legally pursue the CDCR 22 request form procedure. Plaintiff had to write complaints upon 24 Eslick’s misdeeds and obtain replies from Eslick’s supervisors. Defendant Satterfield became 25 aware of these complaints and began to purposefully subject Plaintiff to extreme harassment 26 tactics.

27       On February 16, 2020, while Plaintiff was attending religious services, Satterfield stalked 28 and located Plaintiff, walked Plaintiff into a holding cell area of the prison away from view of

1 everyone, and forced Plaintiff to remove all of his clothing for a so-called strip search in which no 2 cause existed. Satterfield told Plaintiff: “you’re going to the hole!”—inferring that Plaintiff 3 would be moved to administrative segregation. Satterfield began remarking to Plaintiff, “you 4 keep writing up 602’s (inmate appeals) on Eslick and other officers here. Plaintiff became 5 nervous and feared officer Satterfield. Satterfield then had Plaintiff moved from his housing unit 6 into another to create further turmoil for Plaintiff. Satterfield then instigated his supervisor 7 lieutenant Bullock to actually place Plaintiff in administrative segregation on February 13, 2021.
 8 It was subsequently determined that Plaintiff was wrongly placed in administrative segregation.
 9 Although Plaintiff had concerns about his safety, it was because correctional staff were harassing 10 him. Satterfield engaged in unconstitutional actions against Plaintiff in retaliation for his 11 previous grievances against officers Eslick and Flores.

12 Throughout February and March 2021, Satterfield continued to stalk Plaintiff telling him, 13 “you keep it up (filing the 602 complaints) and you will next be in a plastic bag!”

14 Defendant Flores became aware that Plaintiff had initiated the process necessary to 15 exhaust the administrative remedies involving Defendants Eslick and Satterfield. Plaintiff had to 16 first pursue the CDCR 22 request form procedure by writing complaints about Eslick and 17 Satterfield’s misdeeds. Defendant Flores became aware of these complaints written against her 18 fellow officers, and began to purposely subject Plaintiff to harassment techniques.

19 On October 17, 2019, as Plaintiff was walking past Defendant Flores, she loudly 20 exclaimed so other inmates could hear: “you’re a fucking piece of shit!!” Defendant Flores yelled 21 this verbiage knowing that inmates overhearing such would accept it as a true account that 22 Plaintiff is a sex offender, thereby placing him at risk of assault or being killed by other inmates.
 23 Defendant Flores then informed Defendant Satterfield about her provocation of Plaintiff, and 24 Satterfield again threatened Plaintiff not to file an inmate grievance against Flores.

25       B. Statement of Undisputed Facts<sup>1</sup>

26       1. Plaintiff Guillermo Nuno is currently housed at Pelican Bay State Prison and 27 serving a forty-six year sentence for: (1) two counts of rape with force/ violence/fear of bodily

28 <sup>1</sup> Hereinafter referred to as “UF.”

1       injury; (2) corporal injury on spouse within seven years of prior specified conviction; (3) two counts
 2       of false imprisonment; (4) two counts of false imprisonment with violence; (5) infliction of corporal 3       injury on spouse/cohabitant; (6) criminal threat to cause great bodily injury/ death; (7) assault with 4       a deadly weapon; and (8) prevent/dissuade victim/witness. (Declaration of A. Heusel (Heusel
 5       Decl.) ¶ 5.)

6           2.       Due to his sex-offense related crimes, Nuno is assigned an “R” suffix classification 7       which indicates that he is a sex offender pursuant to Penal Code Section 290. (Heusel Decl. ¶¶ 3, 8       6.)

9           3.       Nuno was housed at Sierra Conservation Center (SCC) from May 9, 2018, to August 10      23, 2021, and assigned to Facility C, which was a Level III Sensitive Needs Yard (SNY), until May 11      1, 2021, when it became a Non-Designated Programming Facility (NDPF). (Heusel Decl. ¶¶ 2, 7.)

12          4.       Officer D. Eslick worked as a correctional officer for the California Department of 13      Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR), at SCC from September 27, 2004, until she retired on 14      January 17, 2022. (Declaration of Officer Eslick (Eslick Decl.) ¶ 1.)

15          5.       Officer J. Flores worked as a correctional officer for CDCR, at SCC from November 16      16, 2015, to January 30, 2022, and on January 31, 2022, she was promoted to Sergeant, a position
 17      she holds to the present.<sup>2</sup> (Declaration of Officer Flores (Flores Decl.) ¶ 1.)

18          6.       Officer D. Satterfield has worked as a correctional officer for CDCR at SCC from 19      February 2, 2010, to the present. (Declaration of Officer Satterfield (Satterfield Decl.) ¶ 1.)

20          7.       Each defendant served Requests for Production of Documents to Plaintiff, asking 21      Nuno to produce all records in his possession, custody and control to support his claims against 22      Defendants. (Defendant Eslick’s Requests for Production to Plaintiff, Set One; Defendant 23      Satterfield’s Requests for Production to Plaintiff, Set One; Defendant Flores’s Requests for 24      Production to Plaintiff, Set One, attached collectively as Ex. A to the Declaration of Nilufar K.
 25      Majd (Majd Decl.) ¶ 2.)

26          8.       Plaintiff was not able to identify the name of the inmate who allegedly attacked him.
 27      (Pl. Dep. at 52:20-22, Ex. D; Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

28      <sup>2</sup> The Court refers to Defendant Sergeant Flores as Office Flores, her title at all times relevant to this action.

1       9. Plaintiff did not seek medical treatment for the alleged attack by this unknown
2 inmate. (Pl. Dep. at 53:12-14, Ex. D; Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

3       10. Plaintiff testified that the assault by this unknown inmate took place in the Facility
4 C workout area, where both he and the unknown inmate were housed. (Pl. Dep. at 54:20-25, 55:15-5 25, Ex. D; Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

6       11. Plaintiff testified that this unknown inmate “just comes up behind me or to the side 7 of me and just gives me a punch to the side of my head and like I said it was kind of a like a 8 warning...and he said you keep talking your mouth and that is how I connected. He said you keep 9 complaining or you keep talking to the officer something along those lines... you piece of shit.”
10 (Pl. Dep. at 57:9-22, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

11      12. Plaintiff admitted that there were officers and inmates on the yard when this assault 12 occurred, but there were no “get down” when this attack occurred, because the officers “weren’t 13 looking.” (Pl. Dep. at 55:5-14, 57:23-58:2, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

14      13. Plaintiff testified that despite being punched in the head, he did not report the 15 incident to any medical or prison staff. (Pl. Dep. at 58:15-21, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

16      14. At his deposition, Plaintiff only identified one inmate witness, Inmate Moreno, by 17 name who he claims may have heard some of Officer Eslick’s derogatory statements to Plaintiff.

18      15. Inmate F. Moreno (D10020) was Plaintiff’s cellmate from May 26 to June 25, 2021, 19 in Facility C at SCC. (Declaration of Counselor J. Toubeaux (Toubeaux Decl.), ¶ 4.)

20      16. During the time Plaintiff was housed at SCC, Officer, Eslick was assigned as a Yard
21 Officer on Facility C, at SCC. (Eslick Decl. ¶ 4.)

22      17. As a Yard Officer, among her many job duties, Officer Eslick was responsible for 23 patrolling and supervising inmate movements on the prison yard to ensure that inmates were 24 complying with prison rules, and to preserve the safety and security of inmates, prison staff and the 25 institution. (Eslick Decl. ¶ 4.)

26      18. Plaintiff testified Officer Flores became aware that Plaintiff initiated the grievance 27 process against Officers Satterfield and Eslick because he spoke with Officer Flores on a “couple 28 occasions.” (Pl. Dep. at 128: 8-21, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

1       19. Plaintiff testified that he may have had two or three negative interactions with 2 Officer Flores during the time he was incarcerated at SCC. (Pl. Dep. at 125:16-21, Ex. D; Majd
3 Decl., ¶ 5.)

4       20. Plaintiff testified that he had his first interaction with Officer Flores in October 5 2019 and was unable to identify the next interaction he had with her but had written it down in the 6 documents he created with someone else. (Pl. Dep. at 128:22-129:2, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

7       21. Plaintiff testified that sometime in October 2019, Officer Flores walked by 8 Plaintiff's cell while he was sitting on his bed and called him "a piece of shit out loud." (Pl. Dep.
9 at 125:22-126:4, 127:7-13, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

10      22. Plaintiff did not recall any other specific encounters where Officer Flores made 11 derogatory comments to him. (Pl. Dep. at 129:20-130:3, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

12      23. From August 2019 to October 2020, Officer Flores was assigned as a Relief Officer 13 on Facility C, at SCC where she filled various job assignments as needed. (Flores Decl., ¶ 4.)

14      24. From October 2020 to August 2021, Officer Flores was assigned as a Visiting 15 Process Officer, on the main side of the prison, at which time she had no interactions with inmates, 16 including Plaintiff. (Flores Decl., ¶ 4.)

17      25. As a Facility C Relief Officer from August 2019 to October 2020, Officer Flores
18 had limited interactions with Plaintiff. (Flores Decl., ¶ 4.)

19      26. In 2020, during Facility C yard programming, there were numerous officers on 20 the yard who observed and monitored inmate activities, including an Observation Tower Officer 21 who monitored the yard and an officer who monitored cameras footage of inmate activities on the 22 yard. (Declaration of Dewoody (Dewoody Decl.) ¶ 3.)

23      27. In 2020, there were between 12 to 15 correctional officers, including but not 24 limited to Security Patrol Officers, Yard Officers, Medical Officers, on the yard during Facility C 25 yard programing who observed and monitored inmate activities. (Dewoody Decl. ¶ 3.)

26      28. In 2020, an Observation Tower Officer who had full view of the Facility C yard 27 monitored yard programming on Facility C at all times. (Dewoody Decl. ¶ 3.)

28      ///

1       29. In 2020, a Control Booth Officer was assigned to each building in Facility C to 2 monitor the camera footage of the Facility C yard as part of the Control Booth Officer's job 3 responsibilities; there were also two additional towers with officers monitoring the Facility C yard, 4 as well as the prison gates. (Dewoody Decl. ¶ 3.)

5       30. If any one of the numerous prison staff present on and monitoring the Facility C 6 yard witnessed an inmate-on-inmate attack, it is to be documented as an Incident Report, and placed 7 both in the victim inmate and attacker inmate's respective central files via the Strategic Offender
8 Management System (SOMS). (Dewoody Decl. ¶ 4.)

9       31. A review of Plaintiff's SOMS records does not reveal that he was involved in any 10 inmate-on-inmate attack in 2020, while housed at SCC. (Dewoody Decl. ¶ 5.)

11       32. Plaintiff testified that during the relevant time of his FAC, he was housed in 12 Facility C, an SNY, at SCC, where inmates with sex offenses and child molestation charges are 13 also housed. (Pl. Dep. at 30:6-12, Ex. D; Majd Decl., ¶ 5.)

14       33. During the relevant time to the FAC, Facility C was designated as an SNY, which 15 comprised of inmates who were particularly vulnerable and required special protection from the 16 general inmate population. (Heusel Decl., ¶¶ 2-3.)

17       34. These SNYs were intended to house inmates who had been designated as "sensitive 18 needs" based on cited, documented, and verified information that, for safety and security reasons, 19 an inmate had to be housed on a yard separate from the general population. (Heusel Decl., ¶ 3.)

20       35. Initial criteria for the sensitive-needs designation focused on inmates documented 21 as high notoriety based on their crimes, past victims directly related to a crime, informants and/or 22 gang drop-outs. (Heusel Decl., ¶ 3.)

23       36. Included in these sensitive-needs populations generally, were inmates who had "R" 24 suffix custody designations, which were affixed to an inmate's custody designation to ensure the 25 safety of inmates, staff and the public by identifying inmates who have a history of specific sex
26 offenses as outlined in Penal Code Section 290. (Heusel Decl., ¶ 3.)

27       37. During the relevant time period of the FAC, Facility C housed inmates with 28 documented histories of sex offenses, including domestic violence, rape and child molestation.

1 (Heusel Decl. ¶ 7.)

2       38. Plaintiff is designated as a violent sex-offender, and upon arrival to SCC, he was 3 classified to be housed in Facility C with inmates who have similar sex-offense designations.

4 (Heusel Decl. ¶¶ 5-7.)

5       39. Placing inmates with certain sex-offense convictions, such as rape or child 6 molestation in general population housing could potentially pose safety risks to those sex-offender
7 inmates, including assault and physical violence. (Heusel Decl. ¶ 8.)

8       40. During the time Plaintiff was housed at Facility C, as Facility C was in part 9 comprised of inmates convicted of various sex offenses, including rape, child molestation, or other 10 sex-related crimes, any inference made by anyone that any particular inmate was a child molester 11 would generally not present a security risk to that inmate in the Facility C inmate population.
12 (Declaration of Lt. M. Bullock (Bullock Decl.) ¶ 7; Heusel Decl. ¶ 9.)

13       41. Because inmates with sex-related criminal convictions and other sensitive 14 background considerations were present on that yard, it is well-known among the inmate population 15 that persons with child-sex offenses could be there. (Bullock Decl. § 7.)

16       42. Plaintiff testified that he made verbal complaints to Sgt. Tague in August or 17 September of 2019, that Officer Eslick was discriminating against Plaintiff for a job opening that 18 Plaintiff was next in line to receive, but officer Eslick assigned that job to a newer inmate. (Pl. Dep.
19 at 75:16-76:15 [Beginning at “So when was...”], Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

20       43. Plaintiff testified that officer Eslick played a role in his ability to get this job 21 opening because unknown “officers and clerks” told Plaintiff that Officer Eslick had influence over 22 job assignments as she had a “personal relationship with the Supervisor...at Sierra Conservation.”
23 (Pl. Dep. 76:16-78:1, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

24       44. Plaintiff testified that he never filed a grievance concerning officer Eslick’s alleged 25 discrimination and failure to assign him to the desired job placement, instead he made a verbal 26 complaint to Officer Eslick’s supervisor, Sgt. Tague. (Pl. Dep. 80:3-11, [Beginning, “So at that 27 point...”], Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

28       ///

1       45.     Sgt. Tague was Officer Eslick's immediate supervisor, when she worked as a 2 Correctional officer in Facility C, at all relevant times to the FAC. (Tague Decl., ¶ 3.)

3       46.     Sgt. Tague recalls Plaintiff made multiple and frequent complaints about multiple 4 officers on Facility C, however, due to the passage of time, Sgt. Tague does not recall any specific 5 complaints Plaintiff made against Officer Eslick. (Tague Decl. ¶ 6.)

6       47.     Plaintiff testified that when Officer Satterfield became aware that Plaintiff submitted 7 appeals against the other defendants, Officer Satterfield harassed Plaintiff on February 16, 2020.
8 (Pl. Dep. 102:4-9, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

9       48.     Plaintiff testified that on February 16, 2020, no one was present when Officer 10 Satterfield conducted an unclothed body search on Plaintiff so that Officer Satterfield could look 11 and laugh at Plaintiff. (Pl. Dep. 112:16-113:4, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

12       49.     Plaintiff testified that after the February 16, 2020 unclothed body search, Officer 13 Satterfield threatened Plaintiff with segregation but then sent him back to his cell instead. Pl. Dep.
14 115:8-18, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

15       50.     Plaintiff testified that nearly one year later, on February 13, 2021, "Supervisor 16 Bullock" fabricated a reason to put Plaintiff in segregation, and that "Bullock and Satterfield 17 obviously ha[d] been speaking to each other...they discussed me and they [ ] discussed my court 18 litigation and grievances that I have been doing while I was getting help from other inmates." (Pl.
19 Dep. 118:2-119:4, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

20       51.     Plaintiff testified that Lt. Bullock never gave Plaintiff a reason for placing him in 21 administrative segregation on February 13, 2021, and he was in administrative segregation for a 22 week to ten days. (Pl. Dep. 119:9-18, 23-24, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

23       52.     Plaintiff testified that Sgt. Sesma told Plaintiff that he was wrongfully placed in 24 administrative segregation, and he gave him the document that indicated he was wrongfully placed 25 in administrative segregation. (Pl. Dep. 121:8-122:2, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

26       53.     Plaintiff testified that he was moved from Building 1 to Building 5 because he 27 "kept complaining of Satterfield" but did not know when he moved from Building 1 to Building 5.
28 (Pl. Dep. 123:1-15, Ex. D, Majd Decl. ¶ 5.)

1       54. Officer Satterfield was assigned as Facility C Security Patrol Officer from August
2 2019 to February 2020. (Satterfield Decl. ¶ 4.)

3       55. Based on his review of the FAC, Officer Satterfield vaguely recalled conducting an 4 unclothed body search on Plaintiff on February 16, 2020, in the Facility C program office, where 5 unclothed body searches are conducted. (Satterfield Decl. ¶ 12.)

6       56. A licensed vocational nurse or registered nurse would also be called to conduct an 7 examination of the inmate after the unclothed body search was performed, as a precaution to ensure 8 that the officer conducting the search did not injure the inmate; the nurse would note any injuries 9 in a CDCR Form 7219, along with an ASU pre-placement form in the event the inmate needed to 10 be placed in ASU housing for his safety, and/or the safety of the institution. (Satterfield Decl. ¶ 11 12; Bullock Decl. ¶ 13.)

12       57. Upon his investigation, Sgt. Sesma prepared a CDC 128-B General Chrono, 13 advising Plaintiff that his safety concerns were unfounded and unsubstantiated, and Plaintiff was 14 then released from ASU housing back to Facility C housing on February 18, 2020. (Sesma Decl.
15 ¶¶ 7-8; Bullock Decl. ¶ 18; Ex. I, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 15.)

16       58. Plaintiff's records confirm he was housed in C3-148L on April 8, 2020 for 17 quarantine based on being symptomatic for Influenza Like Illness/ COVID-19 and was released 18 and moved back to Building 1, Cell 118 after completing quarantine on April 14, 2020.
19 (Declaration of Captain R. Jauregui (Jauregui Decl.) ¶ 4.)

20       59. On April 20, 2020, Plaintiff was moved from Building 1 to 5 to make room for more 21 quarantine space during the COVID-19 pandemic. (Jauregui Decl. ¶¶ 4-5.)

22       60. Plaintiff remained in Building 5 in various cells until his transfer to Pleasant Valley 23 State Prison, with one move into the former ASU on February 13-February 18, 2021. (Jauregui
24 Decl. ¶ 5.)

25       61. None of Plaintiff's movements appeared to be out of the ordinary while he was 26 housed at SCC, rather, the movements were incident to prison operations and to make space for 27 isolation and quarantine releases during the pandemic. (Jauregui Decl., ¶¶ 6-7.)

28       ///

1       62. On February 20, 2020, Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01028 against 2 Officer Eslick, claiming he received an RVR issued by Officer Eslick in retaliation for complaining 3 of harassment and intimidation by Officer Eslick. (Plaintiff's 602-Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01028, 4 Ex. J, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 18.)

5       63. Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-20-01028 to the second level of institutional
6 review. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 18.)

7       64. On February 20, 2020, Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01030 against 8 Officer Satterfield, claiming he received an RVR issued by Officer Satterfield to retaliate against 9 him. (Plaintiff's 602-Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01030, Ex. K, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 19.)

10       65. Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01030 to the second level of institutional
11 review. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 19.)

12       66. On February 20, 2020, Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01031, against 13 Officer Flores, claiming Officer Flores changed the truth in what was reported in her RVR that she 14 issued to Plaintiff, further claiming this RVR was issued in retaliation for complaints he previously
15 filed; in his appeal, Plaintiff also claimed the Senior Hearing Officer who reviewed the RVR twisted
16 his words and made up his mind prior to the RVR hearing. (Plaintiff's 602-Appeal No.
17 SCC-X-20-01031, Ex. L, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 20.)

18       67. Plaintiff submitted 602-Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01031 to the second level of 19 institutional review. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 20.)

20       68. On February 20, 2020, Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-00786, claiming 21 Facility C Officers Flores, Eslick, Rivera, and Satterfield retaliated against Plaintiff, conspired to 22 write RVRs against him, colluded, were abusive, conducted themselves unethically, and conspired 23 to have him "kicked off the yard"; Plaintiff alleged the actions of the officers caused Plaintiff brain 24 damage and as a result required him to take prescribed medication. (Plaintiff's 602-Appeal No.
25 SCC-X-20-00786, Ex. M, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 21.)

26       69. Plaintiff submitted CDCR 602-appeal No. SCC-X-20-00786 through a second 27 round of institutional review. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 21.)

28       ///

1       70. On March 3, 2020, Plaintiff submitted 602-Appeal No. SCC-X-20-00787, claiming 2 Officer Eslick harassed Plaintiff in multiple ways, and made derogatory comments to him of a 3 sexual nature. (Plaintiff's 602-Appeal No. SCC-X-20-00787, Ex. N, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 23.)

4       71. Plaintiff attempted to submit CDCR 602-appeal No. SCC-X-20-00787 through a 5 second round of institutional review. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 23.)

6       72. Plaintiff submitted Appeal Nos. SCC-X-20-01028, SCC-X-20-01031, SCC-X-20 7 00786 and SCC-X-20-00787 to the Office of Appeals for a third and final level of review.
8 (February 4, 2021 Responses from the OOA, Ex. E, Majd Decl. ¶ 6.)

9       73. On May 2, 2020, Plaintiff submitted Grievance No. SCC-X-20-0857, claiming 10 Officer Satterfield continually harassed him since October 17, 2019, when he allegedly told 11 Plaintiff "not to 602 Officer Flores" and lied to the Senior Hearing Officer during his last RVR.
12 (Plaintiff's Grievance No. SCC-X-20-00857, Ex. O, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 24.)

13       74. Plaintiff submitted CDCR 602-Appeal No. SCC-X-20-00857 through two levels of 14 institutional review at SCC. Plaintiff's Grievance No. SCC-X-20-00857, Ex. O, Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 15 24.)

16       C. Defendants' Evidentiary Objections

17       Defendants raise several evidentiary objections to some of the evidence submitted by 18 Plaintiff in opposition to their motion for summary judgment. In fact, Defendants object to the 19 entirety of Plaintiff's declaration for lack of relevancy, self-serving statements, conclusory, calls 20 for legal conclusion, lack of foundation, lack of personal knowledge, and hearsay. To the extent 21 the Court necessarily relied on evidence that has been objected to, the Court relied only on evidence 22 it considered to be admissible. The Court does not generally rule on all evidentiary objections 23 individually in the context of summary judgment. "This is especially true when, as here, 'many of 24 the objections are boilerplate recitations of evidentiary principles or blanket objections without 25 analysis applied to specific items of evidence.' " Capital Records, LLC v. BlueBeat, Inc., 765 26 F.Supp.2d 1198, 1200 n.1 (C.D. Cal. 2010) (quoting Doe v. Starbucks, Inc., 2009 WL 5183773, at 27 *1 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2009)). To the extent the Court necessarily relied on evidence that has been 28

1 objected to, the Court relied only on admissible evidence and, therefore, the objection is overruled.<sup>3</sup>

2           D. Analysis of Defendants' Motion

3 Defendants argue that Plaintiff's claims are based on nothing more than uncorroborated 4 allegations. The undisputed evidence shows that Plaintiff cannot satisfy any component of the 5 deliberate indifference test, satisfy any element to support his retaliation claims, or demonstrate his 6 entitlement to punitive damages. Among other things, Plaintiff was not attacked due to any conduct 7 of Defendants and admits to facts that negate both his First and Eighth Amendment claims against 8 Defendants. As Plaintiff cannot point to any competent, admissible evidence to support his claims 9 against Defendants, summary judgment is warranted. Defendants also argue they are entitled to 10 qualified immunity. (ECF No. 82.)

11           In opposition, Plaintiff argues that there are genuine issues of material fact that Defendants 12 engaged in unconstitutional retaliation and acted with deliberate indifference to his safety. (ECF 13 No. 106.)

14           In reply, Defendants argue that Plaintiff attempts to defeat summary judgment based on his 15 own uncorroborated, conclusory, self-serving declaration and statements. While Defendants 16 presented ample evidence showing no genuine dispute of fact, Plaintiff has failed to offer any 17 competent, admissible evidence to overcome summary judgment. (ECF No. 109.)

18           In response, Plaintiff argues that his declaration is presumed true and provides competent 19 evidence to raise a genuine issue of material fact to support his retaliation and deliberate
 20 indifference claims. (ECF No. 110.)

21           1. Deliberate Indifference to Safety

22           Plaintiff contends that Defendants Eslick and Flores called him a "piece of shit" indicating

 24           <sup>3</sup> In addition, any objection to evidence based on relevance of admissibility of form are unnecessary. Bohnert v.
Roman Catholic Archbishop of San Francisco, 136 F. Supp. 3d 1094, 1111 (N.D. Cal. 2015) (declining to consider on 25 summary judgment objections that evidence "lacks foundation, is irrelevant, is inadmissible hearsay, or is responsive 26 to leading questions"); see also Slojewski v. Polam Fed. Credit Union, 473 F. App'x. 534, 536 n. 1 (9th Cir. 2012) 27 (holding district court erred in excluding evidence presented on summary judgment on the basis that it was inadmissible 28 hearsay); Jeffries v. Las Vegas Metro. Police Dep't, 713 F. App'x 549, 549–51 (9th Cir. 2017) (affirming district court's grant of summary judgment to defendant on plaintiff's 42 U.S.C. § 1983 claims and finding district court did not err in considering the exhibits attached to defendant's motion for summary judgment even though some of the exhibits were not authenticated "because a competent witness with personal knowledge could authenticate the exhibits at trial").

1 or suggesting that Plaintiff was a child molester.

2 “A prison official’s ‘deliberate indifference’ to a substantial risk of harm to an inmate 3 violates the Eighth Amendment.” Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 828 (1994). For allegations of 4 deliberate indifference to safety by a prison official to state an Eighth Amendment claim, they must 5 satisfy two requirements. First, the deprivation or harm suffered by the prisoner must have been 6 “sufficiently serious,” that is, “the inmate must show that he is incarcerated under conditions posing 7 a substantial risk of serious harm.” Farmer, 511 U.S. at 834 (quoting Wilson v. Seiter, 501 U.S.
8 294, 298 (1991), and citing Helling v. McKinney, 509 U.S. 25, 35 (1993)). And second, the “prison 9 official must have a ‘sufficiently culpable state of mind,’ ” that is, “one of ‘deliberate indifference’ 10 to inmate health or safety.’ ” Farmer, 511 U.S. at 834 (quoting Wilson, 501 U.S. at 297, 302-03).
11 The mental state of deliberate indifference is equivalent to that of reckless disregard; to be liable, 12 the prison official must know of and disregard an excessive risk to inmate health or safety. Farmer, 13 511 U.S. at 836-37. “[T]he official must both be aware of facts from which the inference could be 14 drawn that a substantial risk of serious harm exists, and he must also draw the inference.” Id. at 15 837. An Eighth Amendment claimant need not show that a prison official acted or failed to act 16 believing that harm actually would befall an inmate; it is enough that the official acted or failed to 17 act despite his knowledge of a substantial risk of serious harm. Id. at 842.

18 The “objective prong” involving a “substantial risk of serious harm” requires prisoners 19 establish they might suffer “further significant injury” or experience the “unnecessary and wanton 20 infliction of pain.” Id. The “subjective prong” requires prisoners establish prison officials 21 “knowingly and unreasonably disregarded” the risk of harm. Farmer, 511 U.S. at 846. Put 22 differently, prison officials must know “about the risk to which prisoners were exposed” but then 23 “deliberately choose to maintain the harmful policies” or practices. Disability Rights Montana, 24 Inc. v. Batista, 930 F.3d 1090, 1099 (9th Cir. 2019).

25 The question under the Eighth Amendment is whether prison officials, acting with 26 deliberate indifference, exposed a prisoner to a sufficiently “substantial risk of serious harm” to his 27 or her future health. Id. at 843 (citing Helling v. McKinney, 509 U.S. at 35. Thus, the issue to be 28 determined, here, is whether Defendants’ conduct placed Plaintiff at a substantial risk of serious

1 future harm.

2 Courts have extended the failure-to-protect line of caselaw to cases where prison officials 3 intentionally label an inmate in such a way as to subject him to violence at the hands of his fellow 4 inmates. For example, the Ninth Circuit has found an Eighth Amendment claim where an inmate 5 alleged that prison officials “labeled him a ‘snitch’ with the intent of having [him] killed by 6 inmates.” Valandingham v. Bojorquez, 866 F.2d 1135, 1138 (9th Cir. 1989). The same holds true
7 with labeling an inmate a sex offender or “child molester.” Morris v. Burrkhouse, No. CV 19-5839-
8 SVW (KK), 2021 WL 2119497, at *4 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 24, 2021) (“The allegations that Defendants, 9 for the purpose of being malicious and vindictive and identifying Plaintiff to the prison population 10 as a sex offender, falsely accused Plaintiff of a violation which they knew would result in dangerous
11 consequences are sufficient to establish Defendants acted with deliberate indifference to Plaintiff’s 12 safety.”); Crane v. Gonzales, No. CV F 03 6339 OWW WMW P, 2008 WL 2168927, at *3 (E.D.
13 Cal. May 23, 2008), report and recommendation adopted, 2008 WL 2676780 (E.D. Cal. June 30, 14 2008) (finding cognizable Eighth Amendment claim where prison official labeled an inmate a child 15 molester and incited inmates to harm him).

16 Here, Defendants Eslick denies making any derogatory or offensive comments to Plaintiff 17 at any time, including the phrases, “faggot,” you got a small penis,” “go suck,” “masturbator,” 18 “watch your back,” “I’ll get you off of the yard,” “I’m going to get you knocked out,” “you will 19 see what happens,” “I will send you to a level four,” or “piece of shit.” (Eslick Decl. ¶ 10.)
20 Defendant Flores also denies making any offensive comments to Mr. Nuno at any time, including 21 calling him a “piece of shit,” or “fucking piece of shit.” (Flores Decl. ¶ 8.)

22 Defendants Eslick and Flores also declare that based on their years of experience and 23 familiarity with prison slang and terminology in a SNY setting, none of the phrases cited to by 24 Plaintiff, including the phrase “piece of shit” are known to me to identify or suggest that an inmate 25 is a child molester. (Eslick Decl. ¶ 11; Flores Decl. ¶ 9.) Defendant Flores further declares that 26 “in any SNY setting, as inmates housed in Facility C include rapists, child molesters and other sex-27 offenders, calling an inmate a child molester would not generally place that inmate in danger or 28 risk of danger for violence by other inmates in that facility. Moreover, in my time working in an

1 SNY setting, because the inmates housed at Facility C include rapists, child molesters and other 2 sex-offenders, information that an inmate had a child molestation conviction would not generally
 3 place that inmate in danger or risk of danger for violence by other inmates in that facility.” (Flores
 4 Decl. ¶ 10.)

5 Defendants Eslick and Flores have met their initial burden of setting forth the evidence they 6 believe entitles them to judgment on Plaintiff’s Eighth Amendment claim against them. The burden 7 therefore shifts to Plaintiff to demonstrate the existence of material factual disputes requiring 8 resolution by the trier of fact. As noted above, for an Eighth Amendment claim, Plaintiff must 9 demonstrate the existence of factual disputes as to both the objective and subjective elements.

10 In opposition, Plaintiff submits that there is substantial evidence, which must be credited at 11 this stage, suggesting Defendants are lying. (ECF No. 106 at 11.) More specifically, Plaintiff 12 argues:

13 Defendant Eslick’s “piece of shit” statement was just one of many such statements she made 14 to Plaintiff, some in the presence of other inmates (Plaintiff’s dec. – paras 4, 5). Her 15 statements tended to focus on sex and sex offenses, including “raper,” “small penis,” “go 16 suck,” “mast[u]rbator” and “faggot” (id – para. 5; SUF 17, 20, 21, 23, 25, 27). Calling 17 Plaintiff a “raper,” in particular, reveals Eslick’s contempt for sex offenses and her 18 willingness to identify someone out loud as a sex offender. By being on a “special needs” 19 yard (Eslick decl. – para. 3), Eslick obviously had an awareness of the risk sex offenders 20 face in a prison environment. Moreover, Eslick called Plaintiff a piece of shit not once but 21 multiple times (SUF 28-29; MSJ at 4:4-5). It is inferable that at least some of those instances were in the presence of other inmates. It is also inferable that Eslick, like Plaintiff, had heard inmates and other officers use the term as a reference to child molesters (id – para. 8). Eslick also knew there were gang members and other non-sex offenders on the 22 yard (Eslick dec. – para. 3). It may be inferred from this set of circumstances that Eslick, 23 who was in a retaliatory mood and had expressed a desire that Plaintiff be “knocked out,” 24 knew exactly the risk she was creating by using the term.

25 Defendant Flores, too, was aware there were ex-gang members and other non-sex offenders 26 on the yard (Flores dec. – para. 2) and yet she nevertheless called Plaintiff a piece of shit 27 loudly enough for other inmates to hear (Plaintiff’s dec. – para. 8). She did so on the heels 28 of Plaintiff’s complaints about Eslick, giving rise to the inference she intended Plaintiff harm by using the term[.] Flores, like Eslick, had likely heard inmates and other officers use the term “piece of shit” to refer to child molesters. Given her posting on a sensitive needs yard (Flores dec. – para. 2, 10), Flores necessarily was aware of the risks to sex offenders in prison. It thus may be inferred Flores knew the risk arising from her statement.

(ECF No. 106 at 11-12.) (emphasis in original).

1           Despite Plaintiff's own contention that Defendants Eslick and Flores knew the term "piece
 2 of shit" meant child molester, there is no other evidence to support his contention. (ECF No. 106
 3 at 7-12.) To this end, Plaintiff requests that Court take judicial notice of several unpublished cases 4 to stand for the supposition that the term "piece of shit" is known to refer to a child molester by 5 inmate populations, and presumably prison staff. See, e.g., Cactus Corner, LLC v. U.S. Dep't of 6 Agric., 346 F. Supp. 2d 1075, 1100 (E.D. Cal. 2004), aff'd, 450 F.3d 428 (9th Cir. 2006) 7 (acknowledging that "documents are judicially noticeable only for the purpose of determining what 8 statements have been made, not to prove the truth of the contents"; see also Reyn's Pasta Bella, 9 LLC v. Visa USA, Inc., 442 F.3d 741, 746 n. 6 (9th Cir. 2006) (the court can take judicial notice 10 of unpublished court decisions, although notice is limited to the existence of the documents and not 11 to the truth of the matters asserted therein.)

12           Plaintiff fails to identify a single witness who purportedly heard Defendant Flores call him 13 a "piece of shit" or any other offensive term.<sup>4</sup> Indeed, at his deposition, Plaintiff could not identify 14 any inmates who were present when Eslick made any of the alleged derogatory statements to him 15 and admitted most of the time comments were made when he was walking alone. (Pl. Dep. 31:21-16 32:6, 39:2-40:5, 40:7-14, 41:8-13, 42:20-25, 44:13-19, 47:25-48:8, 48:12-17, 49:7-9, 58:22-59:3, 17 60:15-24, 62:12-15, 63:2-5, 64:17-23.) As to Flores, Plaintiff testified that the only negative 18 interaction with her was sometime in October 2019, when she called him a "piece of shit," when 19 he was sitting on his bed in his cell. (Pl. Dep. 125:22-126:4, 127:7-13.) Plaintiff fails to present 20 sufficient evidence to demonstrate that any inmate heard Flores call him "a piece of shit," that he 21 was attacked or threatened to be attacked as a result of any such statements, or that he was in any 22 danger from such statement.<sup>5</sup> (ECF No. 106 at 7-12.)

23           <sup>4</sup> The Court notes that for the first time in his opposition, Plaintiff claims that Eslick called him a "raper," but this 24 factual allegation was not raised in the first amended complaint, deposition testimony, discovery responses, or the 25 proposed second amended complaint. (ECF No. 55 at 3-4; ECF No. 67 at 3-5.)

26           <sup>5</sup> "While a prisoner need not wait to be injured before seeking injunctive relief, see Farmer, 511 U.S. at 845[], a 27 prisoner seeking damages must allege that the risk materialized and caused physical injury." Morris v. Burkhouse, 28 No. CV 19-5839-SVW (KK), 2023 WL 2717749 at 9 (C.D. Cal. February 1, 2023) (citing Rodrigues v. Norwood,
 No. EDCV 10-629-R (MAN), 2010 WL 2740174, at *3 (C.D. Cal. July 9, 2010) and Babcock v. White, 102 F.3d suffered no injury from the alleged risk, a 'sufficiently serious' condition does not exist to support a claim for

With regard to Defendant Eslick, although the testimony by inmate Moreno is disputed, such dispute does not preclude judgment given Plaintiff's failure to submit sufficient evidence that Eslick's alleged comments created an objectively serious risk of harm to his safety. Plaintiff relies on his deposition testimony to argue that he was attacked by an unknown inmate on an unknown date, who called him a "piece of shit." However, Plaintiff does not present specific facts that link the purported conduct of this unknown inmate who allegedly hit him on an unknown date to statements made by Eslick. (ECF No. 106 at 7-12.) Indeed, in response to the specific question whether he was assaulted as a result of Eslick's calling him a "Piece of shit," Plaintiff stated:

I don't know if it could have been for that specific reason but because the inmate, I did have an incident where I was hurt, however, that inmate didn't clarify me, like you were trying to say that if it was for that comment I don't know if it was for that comment or if it was for another comment or if it was for other type of incidents or accumulation of, I don't know.

(Pl. Dep. 52:10-19.) It is undisputed that Plaintiff was not able to identify the inmate attacker or provide a date of the alleged attack, stating only that it was "closer to summer in 2020, and the inmate "repeated similar phrases to what Officer Eslick had stated, but Plaintiff could not identify any remarks made by this unknown attacker. (UF 8; Pl. Dep. 53:1-8, 53:21-54:6.) Plaintiff testified that this unknown inmate "just comes up behind me or to the side of me and just gives me a punch to the side of my head and like I said it was kind of a like a warning...and he said you keep talking your mouth and that is how I connected. He said you keep complaining or you keep talking to the officer something along those lines... you piece of shit." (UF 11.) Plaintiff admitted that there were officers and inmates on the yard when this assault occurred, but there were no "get down" when this attack occurred, because the officers "weren't looking." (UF 12.) It is undisputed that despite claiming he was punched in the head, Plaintiff did not seek medical treatment or report the incident to any medical or prison staff. (UF 9, 13.) Thus, Plaintiff's allegation that he purportedly attacked as a result of comments made by Defendants is entirely speculative.<sup>6</sup> Furthermore, violation of the Eighth Amendment."). Here, Plaintiff's claim for injunctive relief in his FAC is moot since he is no longer at SCC. See Alvarez v. Hill, 667 F.3d 1061, 1063-64 (9th Cir. 2012); Nelson v. Heiss, 271 F.3d 891, 897 (9th Cir. 2001); Dilley v. Gunn, 64 F.3d 1365, 1368 (9th Cir. 1995); Johnson v. Moore, 948 F.2d 517, 519 (9th Cir. 1991).

<sup>6</sup> A district court may properly refuse to find a genuine issue of fact when the only evidence presented by the nonmoving party is her own uncorroborated and self-serving testimony. Villiarimo v. Aloha Island Air, Inc., 281 F.3d 1054, 1061 (9th Cir. 2002); see also Lum v. City of Grants Pass, 2012 WL 1665871, at *1, 484 F. App'x. 89 (9th Cir. May 14, 2012); Coapland v. Long, 2012 WL 8664, at *1, 464 F. App'x. 664 (9th Cir. Jan. 3, 2012); Trujillo

1 Plaintiff's unsubstantiated testimony is discredited by the fact that there were no incident reports 2 or Rules Violation Reports documenting any assault on Plaintiff by this unknown inmate, which 3 would have been discovered by the numerous officers, and camera footage on the yard. (UF 26-4 31.) Even assuming officers Eslick and Flores made derogatory comments about Plaintiff, 5 including that he is "raper," Plaintiff has not presented sufficient evidence to demonstrate that he 6 was either physically harmed or threatened with physical harm because of the comments. See Gaut 7 v. Sunn, 810 F.2d 923, 925 (9th Cir. 1987) ("mere threat" of possible harm does not violate the 8 Eighth Amendment). Plaintiff's claim that an unknown inmate punched him at an unknown time 9 on the Facility C yard is so devoid of support that no reasonable jury would find that these actions
 10 occurred. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 322 (1986); Scott v. Harris, 550 U.S. 372, 380 11 (2007). Further, Nuno presents no medical record or documentation that he was in fact harmed at 12 any time as a result of any conduct by Eslick or Flores. (ECF No. 106 at 7-122; see also AGO 13 00001-00139, Ex. B, and AGO DISC 00140-00147, Ex. C, Majd Decl.¶¶ 3-4, UF 9, 13.)
 14 Because the alleged threats to Nuno's safety never materialized, Nuno cannot establish a 15 "sufficiently serious" condition existed that would support a claim for deliberate indifference.

16 Furthermore, Plaintiff admits that all times relevant to the FAC, Plaintiff was housed in an 17 SNY with other sex-offenders, including child molesters. (UF 32, 37.) Because inmates with sex 18 offenses, including child molesters, and other sensitive background considerations were all housed 19 on the same yard, calling an inmate a child molester would not necessarily pose a risk to an inmate 20 on that yard, and Plaintiff has not presented sufficient evidence otherwise. (UF 40.) Plaintiff argues 21 that non-sex offenders and "ex-gang members" were on the SNY who could have harmed him if 22 they heard he was a child molester. However, Plaintiff fails to present sufficient evidence that he

23
 24 v. Tally, 2011 WL 6122583, at *1 (9th Cir. Dec. 9, 2011).

25 Further, conclusory and/or speculative testimony in affidavits and deposition testimony that is unsupported by 26 specific facts is insufficient to raise genuine issues of fact and defeat summary judgment. Thornhill Publ'g Co., Inc.
v. GTE Corp., 594 F.2d 730, 738 (9th Cir. 1979); see also FTC v. Publ'g Clearing House, Inc., 104 F.3d 1168, 1171 27 (9th Cir. 1997) ("A conclusory, self-serving affidavit, lacking detailed facts and any supporting evidence, is 28 insufficient to create a genuine issue of material fact."). "Conclusory allegations unsupported by factual data cannot defeat summary judgment." Rivera v. Nat'l R.R. Passenger Corp., 331 F.3d 1074, 1078 (9th Cir. 2003); Arpin v.
Santa Clara Valley Transp. Agency, 261 F.3d 912, 922 (9th Cir. 2001) (same).

1 was attacked or threatened to be attacked by such an inmate as a result of any purported statements
 2 made by Eslick or Flores. (ECF No. 106 at 7-12.)

3 Based on the foregoing, the Court finds that summary judgment should be granted in favor 4 of Defendants on Plaintiff's deliberate indifference to safety claim.

5       2.     Retaliation

6       Plaintiff contends that: (1) Eslick falsified an RVR in retaliation for Plaintiff's complaints 7 to individuals of "threats," "collusion," and "fabrication" with Defendants; (2) Flores called 8 Plaintiff "a fucking piece of shit" on October 7, 2019, to incite violence on him in retaliation for 9 filing grievances against officers Eslick and Satterfield; and (3) Satterfield conducted an unclothed 10 body search of Plaintiff on February 16, 2020, moved him to different housing and instigated 11 another prison official to place him in administrative segregation on February 13, 2021, because he 12 filed a grievance against Eslick and Flores.

13       "Prisoners have a First Amendment right to file grievances against prison officials and to 14 be free from retaliation for doing so." Watison v. Carter, 668 F.3d 1108, 1114 (9th Cir. 2012) 15 (citing Brodheim v. Cry, 584 F.3d 1262, 1269 (9th Cir. 2009)). "Within the prison context, a viable 16 claim of First Amendment retaliation entails five basic elements: (1) An assertion that a state actor 17 took some adverse action against an inmate (2) because of (3) that prisoner's protected conduct, 18 and that such action (4) chilled the inmate's exercise of his First Amendment rights, and (5) the 19 action did not reasonably advance a legitimate correctional goal." Rhodes v. Robinson, 408 F.3d 20 559, 567-68 (9th Cir. 2005). To state a cognizable retaliation claim, Plaintiff must establish a nexus 21 between the retaliatory act and the protected activity. Grenning v. Klemme, 34 F.Supp.3d 1144, 22 1153 (E.D. Wash. 2014).

23       a.     Defendant Eslick

24       Plaintiff contends that Defendant Eslick made "repeated fabrications of Rules Violations 25 (even though witnesses were present) after Plaintiff made complaints, of Defendant Eslick, carrying 26 out the threats made to Plaintiff[,] including the collusion [and] fabrication done with the 27 Defendants." (ECF No. 55 at 4.)

28       ///

1           i.       Counseling Only RVRS

2           While housed at SCC, Plaintiff received the following three counseling only RVRs from 3 officer Eslick: December 16, 2019 (RVR No. 6946745), June 7, 2020 (RVR No. 7005681) and 4 May 6, 2021 (RVR No. 7085709) for Disrespect after Nuno made disrespectful comments to 5 Officer Eslick. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 5-7, 9, Exs. A, B. C.)

6           With regard to the counseling only RVRs (Nos. 6946745, 7005681 and 7085709), Plaintiff 7 has not shown an adverse action is action that “would chill a person of ordinary firmness” from 8 engaging in that activity. Pinard v. Clatskanie Sch. Dist., 467 F.3d 755, 770 (9th Cir. 2006).
 9 Though an adverse action need not be an independent constitutional violation, inconsequential or 10 de minimis harms do not constitute adverse actions. Watison, 668 F.3d at 1114 (noting that to 11 support a claim, a harm must be “more than minimal”). Plaintiff must establish that that a person 12 of ordinary firmness would have been chilled from exercising their First Amendment rights, and 13 the threatened harm must be more than minimal. Rhodes, 408 F.3d at 568 n. 11.

14           A “counseling only” chrono is issued when “minor misconduct recurs after verbal 15 counseling or if documentation of minor misconduct is needed.” Cal. Code Regs. tit. 15, § 16 3312(a)(2).<sup>7</sup> The regulations do not require that any action be taken as a result of a counseling or 17 informational chrono. See Cal. Code Regs. tit. 15, §§ 3000, 3312. Whether issuing a counseling 18 chrono is an “adverse action” is not a settled proposition. Compare Spence v. Kaur, No. 2:16-cv-19 1828 TLN KJN P, 2022 WL 2705216, at *12-13 (E.D. Cal. July 12, 2022) (counseling chrono not 20 adverse action for purposes of retaliation); Wimberly v. Martin, No. CV 21-5494 SVW (MRW), 21 2022 WL 17219090, at *2 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 3, 2022) (same); Alem v. Burton, 2021 WL 2805775, 22 at *4 (E.D. Cal. July 2, 2021) (“counseling chronos are not adverse actions”; citing Vallery v.
 23 Botkin, 2020 WL 7425343, at *4-5 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2020) (collecting other district court cases 24 concluding that counseling chronos do not constitute adverse actions), report and recommendation 25 adopted, 2021 WL 843614 (E.D. Cal. Mar. 5, 2021)) with Brown v. Chothia, 2021 WL 2913076,

26           <sup>7</sup> The court notes that the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation amended the regulation governing 27 documentation of minor misconduct, California Code of Regulations, Title 15, § 3312, in 2016. Prior to the 28 amendment, minor misconduct was documented on a custodial counseling chrono, referred to as a 128-B. Vallery, 2020 WL 7425343 at *3, 4. After the amendment § 3312 subsection (a)(2) required that minor misconduct be “documented on a Counseling Only Rules Violation Report.” Id. at *3.

1 at *13 (E.D. Cal. July 12, 2021) (reasonable jury could find that counseling chrono “intimated some 2 form of punishment or negative effect would follow if plaintiff did not correct the underlying 3 ‘misconduct’ ” for an adverse action; quoting Brodheim v. Cry, 584 F.3d 1262, 1270 (9th Cir. 2009) 4 (“[T]he mere threat of harm can be an adverse action, regardless of whether it is carried out because 5 the threat itself can have a chilling effect.”) (emphasis original)), report and recommendation 6 adopted, 2021 WL 4132341 (E.D. Cal., Sep. 10, 2021).

7 Nonetheless, in this case, Plaintiff has not alleged how placing the counseling chrono RVRs 8 adversely affected him. In his opposition, Plaintiff argues that the counseling chronos “are placed 9 in Plaintiff’s central file and could potentially influence the decisions or conduct of other officers 10 who read his file” and that “it could lead to adverse interactions with other officers,” and that he 11 “was aware of these chilling possibilities.” (ECF No. 106 at 16.) However, Plaintiff’s incarceration 12 has not been extended and he has failed to show any direct causal relationship between the issuance 13 of the RVR and any possible loss of privileges. (Toubeaux Decl. ¶ 8; Eslick Decl. ¶ 20.) Plaintiff’s 14 housing has not been affected nor has he been subjected to any criminal prosecution as a result of 15 the RVR. (Id.) Theses incidents, at most, involved a minimal amount of harm which is insufficient 16 to chill a person of ordinary firmness from exercising their First Amendment rights. Rhodes, 408
 17 F.3d at 568 n. 11; Arrant v. Zambrano, No. 3:20-cv-01220 JLS-AGS, 2020 WL 5408211, at *4 18 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 9, 2020 (finding dismissal of alleged false RVR as counseling only was non-19 minimal harm). On this record, Plaintiff has not stated a plausible retaliation claim against 20 Defendant Eslick based on the filing of the counseling chrono RVRs.

21 ii. February 10, 2020 RVR No. 6966726

22 Officer Eslick issued only one RVR for serious disciplinary action against Plaintiff on 23 February 10, 2020, RVR No. 6966726 for unlawful influence. (Eslick Decl. ¶ 22; Toubeaux Decl.
 24 ¶ 9, Ex. D.) The nature of the circumstances of the violation in RVR No. 6966726 states as follows:

25 On Monday, February 10, 2020, at approximately 1715 hours while performing my duties
 26 as Facility C Yard #1 Officer and observing building one inmates entering and exiting Chow 27 Hall #6, I was approached by Inmate Nuno CDCR # AW9284, C1-118. Inmate Nuno stated, 28 “I just want to know what I have to do to make you understand that I am a nice guy and I don’t deserve that” (referring to a Counseling Only RVR for Disrespect without Potential for Violence/Disruption written on 12/16/2019). I replied, “You were verbally counseled three times without correcting your behavior, and I informed you of the Counseling Only RVR.” Inmate Nuno then stated, “So are you going to pull it? I could have put paper work on guys but I didn’t and I don’t mean just a 602 either.” (This is the second time that inmate Nuno has stated this. On Thursday, February 6, 2020 inmate Nuno stated, “I think you should get rid of your paper work on me or I will be putting paper on you and I don’t mean in here. I could have put a 602 on David at my cell but I didn’t, so maybe you should be nice to me like I am being nice to you.” I informed inmate Nuno that first names are not appropriate and that regardless of repercussions from him the Counseling Only RVR is not going to be removed.) I replied, “You were talked to about your behavior and did not correct it, I will not be pulling the Counseling Only RVR.” Inmate Nuno stated, “I don’t know what I have to do, you don’t understand, I said I was sorry, you know you are really messing up a lot of things for me so what do I need to do to convince you, you know you are wrong and I can still file paper work on you if you don’t.” I asked inmate Nuno if he was threatening me and he responded “you never told me why you keep writing me up you never told me.” I replied, “I have explained every time you have had a disrespectful incident what the disrespect was and how to correct it and you have neglected to do so and continued your behavior. I have only written you up once for a Counseling Chrono RVR so I am not sure why you’re saying I keep writing you up?” Inmate Nuno replied, “So you’re going to pull it and we are good right?” I replied, “I am not removing your RVR no matter what action is taken, I have not done anything wrong.” I informed inmate Nuno that he would be receiving a RVR and a mental health MH5 referral so that they can help him understand that this attempt of influence is unlawful. I stated, “I am finished talking with you and you need go [sic] eat dinner.” Inmate Nuno complied.

A disciplinary hearing was held on this RVR by a senior hearing officer, who found Plaintiff guilty of the charge and assessed 30-days of good-time credit, among other privileges. (Toubeaux Decl. Ex. E.)

At his deposition, Plaintiff testified that he informed Eslick’s supervisor, sergeant Tague that Eslick was discriminating against him for a job opening. (UF 42.) Plaintiff testified that officer Eslick played a role in his ability to get this job opening because unknown “officers and clerks” told Plaintiff that Officer Eslick had influence over job assignments as she had a “personal relationship with the Supervisor...at Sierra Conservation.” (UF 43.) Plaintiff further testified that he never filed a grievance concerning officer Eslick’s alleged discrimination and failure to assign him to the desired job placement, instead he made a verbal complaint to Officer Eslick’s supervisor, sgt. Tague. (UF 44.) Sgt. Tague was Officer Eslick’s immediate supervisor, when she worked as a Correctional officer in Facility C, at all relevant times to the FAC. (UF 45.) Sgt. Tague recalls

1 Plaintiff made multiple and frequent complaints about multiple officers on Facility C, however, 2 due to the passage of time, Tague does not recall any specific complaints Plaintiff made against 3 officer Eslick. (UF 46.)

4 Officer Eslick declares that she does not recall sergeant Tague informing her about any 5 verbal complaints Plaintiff made against her, but even if Plaintiff made such complaints to Tague, 6 inmate complaints against correctional officers are a normal part of the job and would not have 7 influenced her treatment of Plaintiff, or the performance of her duties as a correctional officer.
 8 (Eslick Decl. ¶ 9.)

9 Defendant argues at the time the RVR was issued, she was not aware of any verbal or written 10 complaints Plaintiff made against her, the RVR did not have a chilling effect on Plaintiff's protected 11 conduct, and the RVR is Heck-barred.

12 (1) Retaliatory Motive/Legitimate Penological Interest

13 Plaintiff must show that his constitutionally protected conduct was a “ ‘substantial’ or 14 ‘motivating’ factor” for the alleged retaliatory action. Brodheim, 584 F.3d at 1271 (quoting 15 Soranno’s Gasco, Inc. v. Morgan, 874 F.2d 1310, 1314 (9th Cir. 1989)). “[P]laintiff must show that 16 the defendant’s retaliatory animus was ‘a “but-for” cause, meaning that the adverse action against 17 the plaintiff would not have been taken absent the retaliatory motive.’ ” Capp v. Cnty. of San Diego, 18 940 F.3d 1046, 1053 (9th Cir. 2019) (as amended) (citation omitted).

19 Plaintiff argues that Eslick’s “words” establish her retaliatory intent.” (ECF No. 106 at 14.) 20 “Relative to Eslick’s falsified rules violation reports, Eslick told Plaintiff that, if he wanted to 21 complain, Defendant would ‘get [his] points up and send [him] to a level four [prison]’ (id – para.
 22 6). Notably, under CDCR regulations, RVRS can result in a prisoner’s ‘points’ going up.” (Id. at 23 14-15; see also Pl. Decl. ¶ 6.)

24 Defendant argues that, while timing can be considered circumstantial evidence of 25 retaliatory intent, Plaintiff cannot show that the issuance of the RVR on February 10, 2020, was in 26 response to his complaints about her which took place occurred five-to-six months prior thereto.
 27 In this instance, the Court does not find that five-to-six months is so attenuated as to foreclose an 28 inference that the chronology of events supports a retaliatory motive. See Allen v. Iranon, 283 F.3d

1 1070, 1077–78 (9th Cir. 2002) (finding an eleven-month gap was circumstantial evidence of 2 retaliatory motive) (citing Schwartzman v. Valenzuela, 846 F.2d 1209, 1212 (9th Cir. 1988).
3 Eslick’s awareness of Plaintiff’s grievances and complaints is not sufficient, on its own, to 4 demonstrate a retaliatory motive. However, if Plaintiff were able to prove his allegations
5 concerning Eslick’s statements, a reasonable jury could credit Plaintiff’s allegation that Eslick 6 issued the RVR to retaliate against Plaintiff. In addition, viewing Plaintiff’s allegations in the light 7 most favorable to him, there is a dispute of fact as to whether the issuance of a false RVR served a 8 legitimate penological interest, such as the preservation of institutional order, discipline, and 9 security. Barnett v. Centoni, 31 F.3d 813, 316 (9th Cir. 1994). Therefore, given the nature of 10 Defendant’s alleged statements and the temporal proximity of the issuance of the alleged false 11 RVR, Plaintiff has sufficiently raised a genuine issue of material fact whether Plaintiff’s protected 12 conduct was a substantial or motivating factor for Defendant’s alleged retaliatory actions and 13 whether it served a legitimate penological interest.

14 (2) Chilling Effect

15 The Ninth Circuit has expressly rejected the idea that a prisoner must “demonstrate a total 16 chilling of his First Amendment rights to file grievances...in order to perfect a retaliation claim.
17 Speech can be chilled even when not completely silenced.” Rhodes, 408 F.3d at 568; see also 18 Cohen v. Summervold, 276 F. App’x 642, 643 (9th Cir. 2008) (“The fact that Cohen continued to 19 file grievances and federal actions despite the alleged retaliation cannot be used to determine that 20 he failed to state a claim that his First Amendment rights were chilled....”). Instead, the Ninth 21 Circuit directs courts to ask whether the alleged retaliatory acts “would chill or silence a person of 22 ordinary firmness from future First Amendment activities.” Rhodes, 408 F.3d at 568–69 (citation 23 omitted).

24 Here, there is no question that issuance of a false RVR based on the exercise of right to 25 file complaints and/or grievances, would chill a person of ordinary firmness. Thus, the fact that 26 Plaintiff filed two or more grievances against Eslick after issuance of the RVR is not dispositive.
27 Indeed, Plaintiff submits “that he declined to submit appeals for some of Eslick’s conduct, 28 including her threats and abusive language, due to Eslick’s retaliatory actions.” (ECF No. 106 at 1 16; Pl. Decl. ¶ 18.) The fact that Plaintiff was ultimately not deterred from pursuing a grievance 2 does not entitle Defendant to summary judgment.

3       (3)     Heck-Bar

4       Defendant argues that this claim is barred by the favorable termination rule, also known as 5 the Heck bar.

6       A state prisoner cannot challenge the fact or duration of his/her confinement in a Section 7 1983 action; his/her sole remedy lies in habeas corpus relief. Wilkinson v. Dotson, 544 U.S. 74, 78 8 (2005). Often referred to as the favorable termination rule or the Heck bar, this exception to § 9 1983's otherwise broad scope applies whenever state prisoners "seek to invalidate the duration of 10 their confinement—either directly through an injunction compelling speedier release or indirectly 11 through a judicial determination that necessarily implies the unlawfulness of the State's custody."
 12 Wilkinson, 544 U.S. at 81; Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477, 486–87 (1994); Edwards v. Balisok, 13 520 U.S. 641, 644 (1997). Thus, "a state prisoner's [Section] 1983 action is barred (absent prior 14 invalidation)—no matter the relief sought (damages or equitable relief), no matter the target of the 15 prisoner's suit (state conduct leading to conviction or internal prison proceedings)—if success in 16 that action would necessarily demonstrate the invalidity of confinement or its duration." Wilkinson, 17 544 U.S. at 81–82. The defendant has the burden of demonstrating that Heck bars a plaintiff's 18 section 1983 claim. See Sandford v. Motts, 258 F.3d 1117, 1119 (9th Cir. 2001). (9th Cir. 1996)).

19       The Heck bar applies to claims of First Amendment retaliation. See Moschref v. Stratton, 20 697 F. App'x 532, 533 (9th Cir. 2017) (retaliation claim against officer for making false statements 21 was Heck-barred when plaintiff's DUI conviction was based on content of statements); Burgess v.
 22 Raya, 690 F. App'x 483, 484 (9th Cir. 2017) (retaliation claim against correctional officers was 23 Heck-barred when success would invalidate result of disciplinary proceeding); Smith v. Ball, 278 24 F. App'x 739, 741 (9th Cir. 2008) (retaliation claim was Heck-barred "because prevailing on 25 [plaintiff's] claim would imply the invalidity of her criminal convictions arising from the same 26 events").

27       Here, Plaintiff correctly argues that Defendant has failed to present evidence that his 28 "multiple sentences" will be affected by the credit loss. (ECF No. 106 at 19.) Defendant has not

1 presented any evidence or argument indicating that the 30-day loss of credits will affect the overall
2 length of Plaintiff's confinement. See Sanford v. Motts, 258 F.3d 1117, 1119 (9th Cir. 2001) (noting 3 that it was the defendant's burden to establish the Heck defense). Indeed, Defendant does not 4 address Plaintiff's specific argument in the reply. (See ECF No. 109 at 4-6.) This is particularly 5 so, given that prisoner can bring section 1983 actions when their lawsuits do not, in effect, 6 collaterally attack the duration of their confinement nor a conviction—for instance, when a prisoner
7 is serving a life term. See Vandervall v. Feltner, 2010 WL 2843425, at *6 (E.D. Cal., July 19, 8 2010) (if a plaintiff is serving a definite sentence, a loss of good-time credits sanction will lengthen 9 the prisoner's sentence in accordance with the sanction; however, this is not the case where a 10 plaintiff is serving an indeterminate sentence.) In addition, if success in a 1983 lawsuit does not 11 cause an immediate release or a shorter stay in prison, the Heck bar does not apply. Id. at *5 (the 12 Heck bar "turns solely on whether a successful § 1983 action would necessarily render invalid a 13 conviction, sentence, or administrative sanction that affected the length of the prisoner's 14 confinement.") (quoting Ramirez, 334 F.3d at 856) (citing Jenkins v. Haubert, 179 F.3d 19, 27 (2d 15 Cir. 1999)) ("[A] § 1983 suit by a prisoner ... challenging the validity of a disciplinary or 16 administrative sanction that does not affect the overall length of the prisoner's confinement is not 17 barred by Heck."). Accordingly, Defendant is not entitled to summary judgment based on the 18 argument this claim is Heck-barred.

19       b. Defendant Flores

20       Plaintiff alleges that officer Flores became aware that he had "initiated the process to 21 exhaust administrative remedies involving Defendants Eslick and Satterfield, and she began to 22 purposely subject him to "extreme harassment techniques." (ECF No. 55 at 7.)

23       Defendant argues that "[t]he only specific allegation of "harassment" by Plaintiff is that 24 on October 7, 2019, Officer Flores called Nuno a 'fucking piece of shit' while Nuno was walking 25 by intending for inmates to hear, placing Nuno at risk of attack by other inmates." (ECF 82 at 26 29.) Defendant further argues because Plaintiff "did not submit his grievances against Officers 27 Eslick and Satterfield until February 20, 2020, assuming Officer Flores made such a comment to 28 Nuno (which she did not) four months prior in October 2019, Nuno cannot claim that Officer

1 Flores's purportedly derogatory statement was in response to, or in retaliation of, Nuno's 2 protected conduct. (SUF 50, 152, 157, 159.) Nuno cannot establish a causal connection between 3 Officer Flores's alleged verbal harassment and any retaliatory conduct by her." (Id.)

4 In the operative first amended complaint, Plaintiff alleges as follows:

5 Defendant Flores became aware that Plaintiff had initiated the process necessary to 6 exhaust administrative remedies involving other defendants Eslick and Satterfield.
7 Plaintiff had to legally first pursue the CDCR 22 request form(s) procedure. Plaintiff had 8 to write complaints about Eslick and Satterfield's misdeeds inflicted upon Plaintiff.
9 Defendant Flores became aware of these complaints written against her fellow officers, 10 and began to purposely subject Plaintiff to extreme harassment techniques. On October 11 07, 2019, as Plaintiff was walking past Defendant Flores, she loudly exclaims so as other 12 inmates could hear: "You're a fucking piece of shit!!" Defendant yelled-out this verbiage knowing that inmates overhearing such would accept it as a true account that Plaintiff is an offender of sexual molestation against minors—thus placing Plaintiff at risk of assault or being killed by inmates. Defendant Flores then informed Defendant Satterfield about her provocation of Plaintiff. Satterfield (again) had threatened Plaintiff that: "you better not 602 (file grievance) her (Flores)."

13 (ECF 55 at 7.)

14 In opposition, Plaintiff argues that he "complained directly to Flores about Eslick in the 15 hopes that Flores could intervene on his behalf. He also told Flores that he was documenting 16 Eslick's misconduct." (ECF No. 106 at 20.) Shortly thereafter, "Flores apparently enlisted 17 Defendant Satterfield to threaten Plaintiff not to complain about Flores' own abusive statement" 18 and a jury "could infer that Flores enlisted Satterfield also to confiscate Plaintiff's documentation 19 of Eslick's misconduct." (Id.; Pl. Decl. ¶ 9.) Plaintiff also submits that Flores "aided and facilitated 20 by Defendant Satterfield of threatening Plaintiff not to file an administrative appeal and searching 21 Plaintiff's cell, destroying his property and confiscating his documentation" and submitted falsified
22 RVRs. (ECF 106 at 20-23; see also Pl. Decl. ¶¶ 8, 9, 23.)

23 It is undisputed that Plaintiff testified that sometime in October 2019, Officer Flores walked 24 by Plaintiff's cell while he was sitting on his bed and called him "a piece of shit out loud." (UF 25 21.) On February 20, 2020, Plaintiff submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-01031, against 26 Officer Flores, claiming Officer Flores changed the truth in what was reported in her RVR that she 27 issued to Plaintiff, further claiming this RVR was issued in retaliation for complaints he previously 28

1 filed; in his appeal, Plaintiff also claimed the Senior Hearing Officer who reviewed the RVR twisted
2 his words and made up his mind prior to the RVR hearing. (UF 66.) On this same date, Plaintiff
3 also submitted Appeal No. SCC-X-20-00786, claiming Facility C Officers Flores, Eslick, Rivera, 4 and Satterfield retaliated against Plaintiff, conspired to write RVRs against him, colluded, were 5 abusive, conducted themselves unethically, and conspired to have him “kicked off the yard”;
6 Plaintiff alleged the actions of the officers caused Plaintiff brain damage and as a result required
7 him to take prescribed medication. (UF 68.)

8 Defendant argues that: (1) Plaintiff cannot raise claims not presented in his first amended 9 complaint; and (2) Plaintiff’s retaliation claim raised in the first amended complaint fails because 10 he has not established a causal connection between the verbal harassment and retaliatory action, 11 and there was no chilling effect on his First Amendment rights.

12 In the proposed second amended complaint, Plaintiff alleged:

13 Defendant Flores became aware that Plaintiff had initiated the process necessary to exhaust 14 administrative remedies involving other defendants Eslick and Satterfield. Plaintiff had to 15 legally first pursue the CDCR request form(s) procedure. Plaintiff had to write complaints 16 about Eslick and Satterfield’s misdeeds inflicted upon Plaintiff. Defendant Flores became 17 aware of these complaints written against her fellow officers, and began to purposely subject 18 Plaintiff to extreme harassment techniques. On October 7, 2019, as Plaintiff was walking 19 past Defendant Flores, she loudly exclaims so as other inmates could hear: “You’re a 20 fucking piece of shit!!” Defendant yelled-out this verbiage knowing that inmates overhearing such would accept it as a true account that Plaintiff is an offender of sexual molestation against minors—thus placing Plaintiff at risk of assault or being killed by inmates. Defendant Flores then informed Defendant Satterfield about her provocation of Plaintiff. Satterfield (again) had threatened Plaintiff that: “you better not 602 (file grievance) her” (Flores).

21 After complaining to Defendant Flores of Defendant Eslick[‘s] misconduct Flores does 22 what is described. Then on 12-17-2019 Flores again calls Defendant Satterfield (who is not 23 assigned to building, Flores and Rivera are just as 10-7-2019) and has my property with 24 documents of violations destroyed being that I notified Flores of documents. This is described in grievances along with fabrication of RVR in collusion with Defendant on 2-10-2019 & does not issue Plaintiff[‘s] mail/materials on 4-30-20.

25 (ECF No. 67 at 9-10.)

26 Here, it is clear that from the proposed second amended complaint that Plaintiff raised the 27 allegations that: (1) he complained to Flores about documenting Eslick’s behavior; (2) Flores 28

1 enlisted Satterfield to threaten Plaintiff not to complain about Flores's abusive statement; (3) 2 Flores enlisted Satterfield to confiscate his documentation of Eslick's misconduct; (4) Flores 3 assisted Satterfield by threatening Plaintiff not to file a grievance and searching his cell, destroying 4 property and confiscating documentation; and (5) Flores submitted false RVRs. (ECF No. 67 at 9-5 10; ECF No. 106 at 20-23.) Plaintiff's proposed second amended complaint was deemed 6 unnecessary given that the Court denied Defendants' motion to dismiss Plaintiff's first amended 7 complaint for failure to state a cognizable claim for relief. (See ECF Nos. 70, 71.) While these 8 allegations were not in Plaintiff's first amended complaint, Plaintiff proffered the allegations in the 9 proposed second amended complaint (filed prior to conducting discovery) as well as in his 10 opposition, the Court finds that Defendants have had fair notice such factual allegations such as to 11 be consumed within his retaliation claim against Defendant Flores. Thus, the Court finds that these 12 new factual allegations fall within the first amended complaint under Rule 8's liberal notice 13 pleading standard. See Chodos v. W. Publ'g, 292 F.3d 992, 1003 (9th Cir. 2002) (the decision 14 whether to permit such a belated attempt to expand a complaint lies within the discretion of the 15 district court).

16 There are disputed facts about whether the conduct occurred and whether it was done in 17 retaliation. Based on Plaintiff's declaration, which must be accepted as true and construe in the 18 light most favorable to Plaintiff when ruling on Defendants' motion for summary judgment, there 19 is evidence in the record from which a fair-minded jury could reasonably find that Defendant 20 Flores took an adverse action against Plaintiff (calling him a "piece of shit," enlisted Satterfield to 21 confiscate Plaintiff's documentation of Eslick's misconduct," assisted Satterfield in searching his 22 cell and destroying his property, and issued a false RVR) because he engaged in protected 23 conduct (making oral complaints and initiating the process to complain by way of use of the 24 administrative grievance process). As Plaintiff states in his first amended complaint and 25 opposition, Plaintiff alleges that Flores became aware he initiated the process necessary to 26 exhaust the administrative remedies, including form 22 complaints and "preparatory grievances" 27 found and confiscated by Satterfield. (ECF No. 55 at 7; ECF No. 106 at 25.) While the evidence 28 may not be conclusive of retaliatory motive, viewing the facts in the light most favorable to

1 Plaintiff, the timing of events combined with the statements allegedly made by Defendant Flores
2 are sufficient to raise a triable issue of fact regarding Defendant Flores's motives. See Bruce v.
3 Ylst, 351 F.3d 1283, 1289 (9th Cir.2003) (statements and suspect timing raised triable issue of 4 fact regarding whether the defendants' motive behind plaintiff's gang validation was retaliatory).
5 Further, as Plaintiff alleges the RVR was false, the filing of false charges against a prisoner could 6 reasonably "chill or silence a person of ordinary firmness from future First Amendment 7 activities." Rhodes, 408 F.3d at 568. Furthermore, Defendant has proffered no evidence 8 demonstrating that Plaintiff has made inconsistent statements such that his allegations must be 9 excluded. See Messick v. Horizon Indus. Inc., 62 F.3d 1227, 1231 (9th Cir. 1995) ("While ... a 10 party may not 'create his own issue of fact by an affidavit contradicting his prior deposition 11 testimony,' the non-moving party is not precluded from elaborating upon, explaining or clarifying 12 prior testimony ...; minor inconsistencies that result from an honest discrepancy, a mistake, or 13 newly discovered evidence afford no basis for excluding an opposition affidavit." (internal 14 citation omitted)). Defendant is free to raise any inconsistencies in Plaintiff's opposition and 15 deposition testimony at trial in an attempt to impugn his credibility, but these types of credibility 16 questions are for the jury to decide, not the court on a motion for summary judgement.

17       c. Defendant Satterfield

18       In his first amended complaint, Plaintiff alleges that when Satterfield became "aware 19 that [Plaintiff] had initiated the process to exhaust administrative remedies involving [] 20 Defendants Eslick and Flores," Satterfield retaliated against him by: (1) conducting an unclothed 21 body search on him on February 16, 2020; (2) moving him to different housing; and (3)
22 instigating Lt. Bullock to place Plaintiff in ASU housing on February 13, 2021. (ECF No. 55 at 5-23 6.)

24       Defendant initially argues that Plaintiff abandoned his claims that Satterfield moved him 25 to a different housing unit and instigated for him to be placed in ASU housing because these 26 claims were not addressed in Plaintiff's opposition. The Court agrees. Plaintiff did not address 27 either of these claims in his opposition or surreply. Accordingly, these claims are deemed 28 abandoned. See Shakur v. Schriro, 514 F.3d 878, 892 (9th Cir. 2008) (It is well-established that

1       “a plaintiff has ‘abandoned … claims by not raising them in opposition to [the defendant’s]
2 motion for summary judgment.’ ”) (quoting Jenkins v. Cty. of Riverside, 398 F.3d 1093, 1095 n.4
3 (9th Cir. 2005)); see also Bernstein v. Virgin Am., Inc., 365 F.Supp.3d 980, 985 (N.D. Cal.
4 2019), amended in part, No. 15-CV-02277-JST, 2022 WL 17994018 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 29, 2022) 5 (“Where a party ‘has a full and fair opportunity to ventilate its views with respect to an issue’ at 6 summary judgment, yet does not raise it, the Ninth Circuit deems the argument abandoned on 7 appeal.” (quoting BankAmerica Pension Plan v. McMath, 206 F.3d 821, 826 (9th Cir. 2000))).

8                  As previously stated, Plaintiff claims that on February 16, 2020, Satterfield conducted an 9 unclothed body search of Plaintiff without cause, and in retaliation of Plaintiff’s grievance against 10 Eslick and Flores. (ECF No. 55 at 5.)

11                  In the first amended complaint, Plaintiff alleged:

12                  Defendant Satterfield became aware that Plaintiff had initiated the process necessary to 13 exhaust administrative remedies involving other Defendants Flores and Eslick. Plaintiff 14 had to legally first pursue the CDCR 22 request form(s) procedure. Plaintiff had to write 15 complaints upon Eslick’s misdeeds and obtain replies from Eslick’s supervisors. Defendant 16 Satterfield became aware of these complaints submitted by Plaintiff and went ahead and 17 began to purposely subject Plaintiff to extreme harassment tactics. On February 16, 2020, 18 while Plaintiff was attending religious services, Satterfield had stalked and located Plaintiff, 19 walked Plaintiff into a holding cell area of the prison away from view of everyone, and 20 forced Plaintiff to remove all of his clothing for a so-called strip search in which no cause 21 existed for. Satterfield told Plaintiff: “you’re going to the hole!”—inferring that Plaintiff 22 would be moved to administrative segregation (ad-seg). Satterfield began remarking to 23 Plaintiff that “you keep writing up 602’2 (inmate appeals) on Eslick and other officers here).
24 Plaintiff became very nervous and had feared this rogue officer Satterfield. Satterfield then 25 had Plaintiff moved from his housing unit into another to create further turmoil for Plaintiff.
26 Satterfield then also instigated his superior Lieutenant Bullock to actually place Plaintiff into ad-seg on February 13, 2021. (EXHIBIT A). Then, afterwards, the same officer, Sergeant Sesma, determined that Plaintiff was actually wrongly placed in ad-seg (EXHIBIT B). Plaintiff did have “concerns”, however, such concerns were about the correctional staff harassing Plaintiff—which became purposely misconstrued through the efforts of Defendant Satterfield. By and through this verified complaint Plaintiff can testify that Satterfield was manipulating other staff into creating a scenario to harass Plaintiff by having Plaintiff moved into the ad-seg unit commonly called the “hole.” Satterfield took unconstitutional action against Plaintiff as retaliation for Plaintiff’s earlier written grievances upon Eslick and Defendant Flores. Although Plaintiff was eventually release from the “hole”, Satterfield’s unrelenting harassment continues.

27                  Throughout all of the remainder of February 2021 and March 2021 up to the date of this 28 suit, Satterfield continues to keep stalking Plaintiff, seeing Plaintiff on the grounds of the yard of the prison and telling Plaintiff: "you keep it up (filing the 602's-complaints) and you will next be in a plastic bag!" The dates are continuous and ongoing. Plaintiff fears that Satterfield will carry out on his repeated threats as Satterfield has against several other inmates at the prison before. His superior officers allow Satterfield to get away with very serious acts against inmates—from PREA abuses to severe beatings.

(ECF No. 55 at 5-6.)

Defendant argues this claim is temporally impossible because Plaintiff did not submit his first grievance against Eslick and Flores until February 20, 2020, the search served a legitimate penological purpose to prevent the introduction of contraband into the prison, and the search did not chill Plaintiff's First Amendment rights.

In opposition, Plaintiff submits that he made oral complaints about Eslick to Flores, conformed copies of form 22 complaints against Eslick and prepared administrative appeal forms which were both confiscated by Satterfield during the cell search. After Plaintiff verbally complained to Flores, Satterfield threatened Plaintiff not to file an appeal against Flores. (ECF No. 106 at 27.) Then, in December 2019, a few days after Plaintiff again complained to Flores about Eslick, Satterfield searched Plaintiff's cell and confiscated documentation of Eslick and Flores's misconduct.

Defendant argues that Plaintiff did not plead any retaliation claim for falsified RVRs or a cell search in his first amended complaint, and Plaintiff provides no evidence to support his claim that the search was done in retaliation.

In the proposed second amended complaint, Plaintiff alleged, in pertinent part:

On 10-7-2019 Defendant Satterfield (DS) began excessively repeated misconduct with threats that were carried out with "do not grievance Flores or else." Other threats continued "we'll get your points up and second you to a 4 yard w[h]ere you'll get hit," "you keep complaining of Eslick." On 12-17-2019 Defendant Flores calls DS over to building and DS destroys Plaintiff's property and documents regarding Defendants, in front of many witnesses, on dayroom floor. Then threatens Plaintiff when Plaintiff attempts to recover documents. On 2-10-20 DS fabricates 2 reports in collusion with Defendants carrying out threats said to Plaintiff. On 2-16-20 DS fabricates a Rules Violation Report after violating Plaintiff after leaving church. In that report DS is caught in lies by stating I delayed yard but it was found not true, never gave an order but lied. He again fabricates another RVR on 3-22-20 in which Lt. Sebold (not usually at facility) does honor questioning (unlike the others) and dismisses the RVR-fabricated. Satterfield never got to coach him unlike others. Exhibit C. It is learned (DS) has personal relationship with Def. Flores, influence. Even after grievances & complaint (DS) goes into [inmate] Becker cell & takes Plaintiff's

1 legalwork not once but twice, was returned missing many pages, even though it is legal to 2 rec[ei]ve help, by Bullock.

3 (ECF No. 67 at 8.)

4 It is clear that from the proposed second amended complaint that Plaintiff raised the 5 additional allegations that Defendant Satterfield: (1) issued two false RVRs; (2) searched Plaintiff's 6 cell; and (3) made verbal threats against complaining or using the administrative grievance 7 process.<sup>8</sup> Accordingly, for the same reasons explained above as to Defendant Flores, these new 8 factual allegations fall within the first amended complaint under Rule 8's liberal notice pleading 9 standard. See Chodos v. W. Publ'g, 292 F.3d at 1003 (9th Cir. 2002).

10 Based on the disputed accounts provided in the declarations of Plaintiff and Satterfield as 11 to what conduct occurred and whether it was done out of retaliation preclude summary judgment 12 on this claim. Plaintiff declares that prior to the adverse actions (unclothed body search, issuance 13 of two false RVRs, cell search, and threats against filing complaints), Satterfield was aware that 14 Plaintiff: (1) made verbal complaints about Eslick and Flores; (2) submitted a Form 22 Request for 15 Interview; and (3) was preparing administrative appeals against officers which were confiscated by 16 Satterfield in a December 17, 2019, cell search. Defendant Satterfield denies knowledge of any 17 complaints by Plaintiff prior to the February 16, 2020 unclothed search, denies making any threats 18 or statements to him about filing complaints, and claims the actions taken served a legitimate 19 penological purpose.

20 Here, Plaintiff has alleged a chronology of events from which a factfinder could infer 21 retaliatory intent: that he expressed complaints about officers, submitted a request for interview, 22 and was preparing administrative appeals, and was thereafter subjected to an improper unclothed 23 body search, issued two false RVRs, subjected to cell search in which property was improperly 24 confiscated, and subjected to verbal threats relating to filing complaints. The fact that one of the 25 RVRs was reduced to a counseling chrono and the other was dismissed, does not change the fact 26 that both RVRs were filed (allegedly in retaliation) as a serious rules violation in which Plaintiff

27 <sup>8</sup> The mere threat of harm can be a sufficiently adverse action to support a retaliation claim. Shepard v. Quillen, 840 28 F.3d 686, 688-89 (9th Cir. 2016); Brodheim v. Cry, 584 F.3d at 1270.

1 could have been subjected to discipline. As stated above, an RVR differs from a counseling only 2 RVR because a counseling only requires no action to be taken. By contrast, an RVR results in 3 disciplinary proceedings being instituted against the inmate, as was done in this case. See Cal. Code 4 Regs. tit. 15, § 3312(a)(3) (setting forth procedure for instituting disciplinary proceedings via 5 RVR). Because Plaintiff alleges that he was issued a RVR (as opposed to a Counseling Only RVR)
 6 as retaliation for the exercise of his First Amendment rights, he has sufficiently pled an adverse 7 action. The adverse action is not belied simply because a third party reduced or dismissed the RVR 8 as it is the Defendant's actions and the chilling effect thereof that are at issue in this action. See 9 See Hines v. Gomez, 108 F.3d 265, 268-69 (9th Cir. 1997) (finding that it was the “retaliatory 10 accusation[ ]” and not the actual result (i.e. “the additional confinement or the deprivation of the 11 television”) that constituted an injury and upholding jury determination of retaliation based on 12 filing of a false rules violation report); Menefield v. Anderson, No. 21-04910, 2023 WL 1453165, 13 at *11 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 9, 2023), report and recommendation adopted, 2023 WL 1448020 (C.D. Cal.
 14 Feb. 1, 2023) (finding allegations that defendants filed RVRs against plaintiff sufficient to satisfy 15 adverse action element); Vallery v. Botkin, No. 2:20-CV-0767-TLN-KJN, 2020 WL 7425343, at 16 *4 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2020), report and recommendation adopted, 2021 WL 843614 (E.D. Cal.
 17 Mar. 5, 2021) (“California courts have consistently found that an allegedly false Rules Violation
 18 Report, issued pursuant to § 3312(a)(3), can rise to the level of an adverse action for a retaliation 19 claim.”); Brodheim v. Cry, 584 F.3d at 1270 (“mere threat of harm can be an adverse action, 20 regardless of whether it is carried out because the threat itself can have a chilling effect.”). Viewing 21 the evidence in the light most favorable to plaintiff, the Court finds that there are genuine issues of 22 material fact regarding whether Defendant Satterfield retaliated against Plaintiff.

23       3.     Punitive Damages

24       To recover punitive damages against an individual officer in a case brought under 42 U.S.C.
 25 § 1983, a plaintiff must show the officer's conduct is “motivated by evil motive or intent, or when 26 it involves reckless or callous indifference to the federally protected rights of others.” Smith v.
 27 Wade, 461 U.S. 30, 56 (1983). “The standard for punitive damages under § 1983 mirrors the 28 standard for punitive damages under common law tort cases,” which extends to “malicious, wanton,

1 or oppressive acts or omissions.” Dang v. Cross, 422 F.3d 800, 807 (9th Cir. 2005).

2 Defendants argue it is undisputed that they did not act with the requisite mental state and 3 “[b]eyond his own conclusory, speculative declaration, [Plaintiff] has not produced any evidence 4 to demonstrate that Defendants acted with the requisite evil motive or intent or reckless and callous
 5 indifference to [Plaintiff’s] federally protected rights.” (ECF 109 at 10.) Defendants’ argument 6 assumes the validity of their version of the relevant facts. However, viewing the record in the light 7 most favorable to Plaintiff, a triable issue of fact remains as to whether Defendants exhibited 8 reckless and callous indifference to Plaintiff’s rights under the First Amendment. Accordingly, the 9 Court does not conclude as a matter of law that Defendants acted without the mental state that could 10 support an award of punitive damages. Accordingly, Defendants have not met their burden for 11 summary adjudication on the matter of punitive damages.

12       4.     Qualified Immunity<sup>9</sup>

13       The defense of qualified immunity protects “government officials … from liability for civil 14 damages insofar as their conduct does not violate clearly established statutory or constitutional 15 rights of which a reasonable person would have known.” Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800, 818
 16 (1982); see also Ashcroft v. al-Kidd, 563 U.S. 731, 743 (2011). Qualified immunity considers (1) 17 whether a violation occurred and (2) whether the right was “clearly established in light of the 18 specific context of the case,” so that every reasonable official would know “beyond debate” that 19 the challenged conduct was unlawful. City & Cnty. of San Francisco, Calif. v. Sheehan, 575 U.S.
 20 600, 611-13 (2015). A court considering a claim of qualified immunity must determine whether 21 the plaintiff has alleged the deprivation of an actual constitutional right and whether such a right 22 was clearly established such that it would be clear to a reasonable officer that his conduct was 23 unlawful in the situation he confronted. See Pearson v. Callahan, 555 U.S. 223, 236 (2009) 24 (overruling the sequence of the two-part test that required determining a deprivation first and then 25 deciding whether such right was clearly established, as required by Saucier v. Katz, 533 U.S. 194, 26 201 (2001)). The Court may exercise its discretion in deciding which prong to address first, in

---

 28       9 The Court only addresses qualified immunity as it relates to the retaliation claims because it is recommended summary judgment be granted on the deliberate indifference claim.

1 light of the particular circumstances of each case. Pearson, 555 U.S. at 236. The Court must view 2 the evidence in the light most favorable to the plaintiff. See Martinez v. Stanford, 323 F.3d 1178, 3 1184 (9th Cir. 2003).

4 Although both the “clearly established right” and “reasonableness” inquiries are questions 5 of law, where there are factual disputes as to the parties’ conduct or motives, the case cannot be 6 resolved at summary judgment on qualified immunity grounds. See Torres v. City of Madera, 648
7 F.3d 1119, 1123 (9th Cir. 2011). “Where the objective reasonableness of an officer’s conduct turns 8 on disputed issues of material fact, it is a question of fact best resolved by a jury..., only in the 9 absence of material disputes is it a pure question of law.” Id. (internal quotation marks and citations 10 omitted).

11 Defendants argue they are entitled to qualified immunity because they did not engage in 12 any retaliatory conduct against Plaintiff. For the reasons explained above, Plaintiff’s allegations 13 of retaliation raise questions of fact that preclude summary judgment on his retaliation claims 14 against Defendants Eslick, Flores, and Satterfield. Consequently, the factual question of 15 Defendants’ motive in rendering the above-described adverse actions prevents a finding that 16 Defendants are entitled to qualified immunity upon the record presently before the Court.

17 IV.

18 RECOMMENDATIONS

19 Based on the foregoing, it is HEREBY RECOMMENDED that:

20 1. Defendants’ motion for summary judgment on Plaintiff’s Eighth Amendment 21 deliberate indifference claim be GRANTED; and 22 2. Defendants’ motion for summary judgment on Plaintiff’s First Amendment 23 retaliation claims be DENIED.

24 These Findings and Recommendations will be submitted to the United States District Judge 25 assigned to the case, pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). Within twenty-one (21)
26 days after being served with these Findings and Recommendations, the parties may file written 27 objections with the Court, limited to 15 pages in length, including exhibits. The document should 28 be captioned “Objections to Magistrate Judge’s Findings and Recommendations.” The parties are

1 advised that failure to file objections within the specified time may result in the waiver of rights on 2 appeal. Wilkerson v. Wheeler, 772 F.3d 834, 838-39 (9th Cir. 2014) (citing Baxter v. Sullivan, 923 3 F.2d 1391, 1394 (9th Cir. 1991)).
